

"Flying Legends is a firm fixture in the international air show calendar – whatever the line up, it's a show you just don't want to miss. I like to arrive early and look around as the crowds gather from across the world and the flightline buzzes with activity as the aircraft are rolled out, evoking the days of the early 1940s. The show starts with a thrilling display and the excitement doesn't let up... the atmosphere is electric for the next three hours..."

THE FIGHTER COLLECTION

One of the principal global players in the operation of classic fighters, The Fighter Collection is run by a professional team of engineers and pilots and has its base at Duxford. Here it restores and maintains Europe's largest fleet of airworthy First and Second World War warbirds, which take part in air shows across Europe and continue to appear in countless films and TV productions. The Fighter Collection is also developing an innovative range of flight simulation games software.

Friends of The Fighter Collection (FOTFC) offer a range of exclusive and exciting privileges, including members access to the FOTFC enclosure located on the flight line during the Flying Legends air show.
